

Pedagogy

Using Archival Documents, Memoir, and Testimony to Teach About Jewish Families During and After the Holocaust
Carson Phillips, Volume 3, p.59

Auguststrasse 25, An Experiential Memorial: Teaching About Jewish Family Life in Pre-Holocaust Germany
Carson Phillips, Volume 3, p.119

A Literary Search for Truth: Teaching the Holocaust Memoir to the Generations After the Holocaust
Nancy D. Kersell Volume 3, p.129

“Of All Those Acts”: Learning From and Teaching the Third Generation
Alison Dobrick, Volume 3, p.135

An Expanded Legacy: Educational Challenges of the Holocaust for the Next Generation of Jewish Students
Joshua Levy, Volume 3, p.142

Teaching About Stealth Altruism in Extremis: Implications for Holocaust Education
Arthur Shostak, Volume 4, p.22

With a Strong Hand and an Outstretched Arm: “The Boxing Match”
Emily Amie Witty, Volume 4, p.39

The British Government and the Kindertransport: Moving Away from the Redemptive Story
Kay Andrews, Volume 5, p.54

A Suitcase Full of Memories: The Unfinished Journey of Lilli Tauber
David Lindquist, Volume 5, p.97

Examining Jewish Values In Kindertransport Narratives
Hana N. Bor and Karen Shawn, Volume 5, p.104

Sites, Sights, and Insights: Using Artifacts in Museum Education
Mary Lee Webeck and Cynthia Lynn Capers, Volume 6, p.8

The Story of Der Giftpilz: Teaching About Antisemitism Through a Children’s Picture Book
David H. Lindquist, Volume 6, p.52

Teaching the Holocaust With Postwar Trials
Valerie Hebert, Volume 6, p.85

Teacher Preparation and Holocaust Education: Creating Authentic Connections
Jeraldine R. Kraver, Volume 6, p.107

Convictions In Conflict: A Dialogue About Religious Identity in the Holocaust
Classroom
Mary Todd and Rochelle L. Millen, Volume 6, p.113

When the Last Survivor Is Gone: An Introduction to Centropa
Edward Serotta, Volume 7, p.8

The Third Alternative: Building a Life in Post-Shoah Europe
Shmuel Afek, Volume 7, p.16

Teaching the Holocaust in a World Without Survivors
Asmir Hasicic, Volume 7, p.19

Engaging Students in Poetry and Video: Expanding Holocaust Education, Expanding
Minds
Melanie Shaul, Volume 7, p.24

Engaging Spanish-Speaking Students With 1492: El Otro Camino
Wendy Warren and Katusca Cirino, Volume 7, p.27

Vienna Stories: Interviewing a Picture
Margaret Chasan, Volume 7, p.30

Listen to the Echoes: Remembering Pre-War Jewish Life Through Performance
Jeffrey Ellison, Volume 7, p.36

The Holocaust Cartoon-No Longer Taboo
Olivia Mattis, Volume 7, p.79

The Pogrom- November 1938 Project: Learning History Through Contemporaneous
Testimony
Ruth Levitt, Volume 7, p.84

Incorporating Apps Into Holocaust Education
Carson Phillips and Martin Hagmayr, Volume 7, p.91

A Selective, Annotated Guide to Holocaust Websites
Paula Cowan, Volume 7, p.96

A Portrait in Poetry: Writing From the Testimony of Roman Kent
Holly Mandelkern, Volume 8, p.74

“Is the Holocaust Even My Story to Tell?” Portrait of Thandeka, a Black South African Holocaust Educator
Brends Gouws with Johan Wasserman, Volume 8, pg. 94

Remember That
Mary Todd, Volume 9, pg. 54

The Graphic Novel as a Way of Knowing: Michael Kovner’s Ezekiel’s World
Pnina Rosenberg, Volume 9, pg. 62

What We Never Knew, What We Learned, and How: Polish Students Reflect on Their Introductions to the Holocaust
Agnieszka Kania and Karen Shawn, Volume 9, pg. 81

A Violin, a Crimson Scarf, a Pair of High-Heeled Shoes: Unpacking Artifacts From Holocaust Narratives
Karen Shawn, Volume 10, pg. 29

When the Lights Go Down: Critical Perspectives on Popular Holocaust Classroom Films
Mark Gudgel, Volume 10, pg. 71